Royal Irish Constabulary Officers A Biographical And ...

The Royal Irish Constabulary was the police force in Ireland from 1822 until 1922, when the country was part of the United Kingdom. A separate civic police force, the unarmed Dublin Metropolitan Police, patrolled the capital, while the cities of Derry and Belfast, originally with their own police forces, later had special divisions within the RIC. For most of its history, the ethnic and religious makeup of the RIC broadly matched that of the Irish population, although Anglo-Irish Protestants wer

The Royal Irish Constabulary carbine was used by one of the world's most interesting police forces. Over the years, many have pointed to Britain's "unarmed" police forces as an example of what can be done to maintain the peace with a minimum of force. The problem with this line of thought is that it was (and is) not necessarily true.
